

HACKtivate ED is a premiere event bringing together 80 – 120 of the best and brightest developers, designers, analysts, and educators in the San Francisco Bay Area. Together, they will collaborate and hack away for 48 hours to create and build cool solutions to address some of our schools' and districts' most pressing needs. Sponsors will have the opportunity to get exposure and meet a community of techies and educators anxious to geek out while helping our kids! If interested in becoming a sponsor, contact Han Hong at han@hacktivateed.org.
